

I'm a flight attendant, and allowing phone usage in the air is nothing but a bad bad ideal. We as Flt. Attendants have enough duties and cannot police the fights that would break out between passengers that are watching a movie or reading or sleeping and now start complaining about someone talking on there phone to loud. I urge you to not pass this phone use on our planes. This will cause nothing but trouble and safty concerns for our jobs as Flt. Attendants. Sincerely , Brett L Tackett
